PRODUCT INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

General Description

Roland Grained Dijon Mustard is made from black and brown mustard seeds. Not all of the seeds are ground into a powder before processing (as they are for smooth-style mustards). A large portion of the seeds are left whole for added flavor and texture.

Preparation and Cooking Instructions

use Roland Grained Dijon straight from the tin,iIn sauces, seasoning main dishes, and salad dressings. Coat a leg of lamb with grained dijon before roasting for superb taste.

Benefits of Using This Product

Roland Dijon Mustard is low in calories and fat free; it is a perfect flavoring agent.

List of Ingredients

Mustard Seeds, Water, Vinegar, Salt, White Wine, Citric Acid, Natural Flavors, Potassium Metabisulfite (as a preservative), turmeric.

Other Information

Roland Grained Dijon Mustard should be refrigerated after opening (as should all true, full flavored dijon mustards). The use of whole mustard seeds gives a more "textured" taste, slightly milder than the extra strong style.

Suggested Uses

Roland Grained Dijon Mustard can be used in a variety of sauces. It is excellent for vinaigrette and other salad dressings. It is the perfect condiment to be on the table in fine continental restaurants, served in a small crock or glass serving jar.

Similar Products

Roland item #70316 (5k tin packed 3 to a case); #70306 (11 lb tub) #70280 (12 oz jar); #70314 (9.5 oz jar) the smallest size, perfect for the occasional user.

Potential Markets

Roland Dijon Mustard Grained with wine is used by both American and contin- ental restaurants. It is popular with caterers, cruise line, delis, sandwich shops, hotels, and a variety of regional and national restaurant chains.
